Any day now. It's done and we're just doing the final release check lists before it goes up on the SELECT download site.

This release focused on some major upgrades fro the real time modeling work flow. A user can very quickly set up a run to simulate a fire, pipe break, unusual demand or shut down.

We have also made major changes to our unidirectional flushing tool that greatly improves the work flow.

We made some big usability enhancements to our controls to make that much easier for a user.

Plus a whole bunch of other things.

We'll be having a webinar on this in a few weeks.
